DISCUSSION

Personnel Action Summary: The proposed personnel actions result in the addition of 2 new positions in FY12, and 1 new position in FY 13. The 2 new positions this fiscal year are Trainers who would be recalled from layoff to cover the increase in training responsibilities for current and new operators. The addition of the Compliance and Quality Assurance Auditor position will clear the way for staffing that position sometime in FY13. All other personnel actions detailed below do not result in the addition of staff positions, but provide for promotional opportunities or a staffing realignment in those affected classifications responsibilities of handling grievance and contract negotiations. A second Senior Labor Relations Analyst position is added to RT's authorized positions and will be under filled by the current Labor Relations Analyst until such time as it is filled; therefore there is no change to the number of authorized positions from this action as reflected in Exhibit A.

The current Labor Relations Analyst job description has been renamed to Labor Relations Analyst II, grade 208, and has been modified to more accurately reflect the responsibilities of the position. The addition of a new Labor Relations Analyst I job classification, grade 205, will not result in a change to the number of authorized positions as reflected in Exhibit A.

Human Resources Department

RT's 2010 reduction in force resulted in the Human Resources Department losing seven positions which created the need to cross-train existing professional level staff in all areas of HR. The additional duties absorbed by HR staff created a situation where the current job classifications no longer accurately reflected the tasks performed by the incumbents; therefore the HR Analyst job descriptions have been renamed to Human Resources Analyst I, grade 205, Human Resources Analyst II, grade 208, and Senior Human Resources Analyst, grade 109, and have been modified to consolidate all HR functions and ensure that staff is able to perform all necessary tasks.

Three Senior Human Resources Analyst positions will be added to RT's authorized positions; however the positions will be under filled by the current Analyst II incumbents until such time as they are filled; therefore there is no change to the number of authorized positions from this action as reflected in Exhibit A.

One Administrative Assistant II position, grade 202, will be added to RT's authorized positions which will be under filled by the current Administrative Assistant I incumbent in Human Resources until such time as it is filled; therefore there is no change to the number of authorized positions from this action as reflected in Exhibit A.

GENERAL MANAGER'S OFFICE

One Compliance and Quality Assurance Auditor position, grade 112, is added to RT's authorized positions to ensure that all RT's contracts and audits are in compliance. The change to the total number of authorized positions is reflected in Exhibit A.

OPERATIONS DIVISION

Bus Maintenance Department

One vacant Mechanic A Body/Fender position will be eliminated and one additional Mechanic A position will be added to RT's authorized positions. There is no change to the number of authorized positions from this action as reflected in Exhibit A.
